Oppressed
Bangladesh
fight for their future

The 'untouchables' are hoping to break centuries of discrimination with the help of the charity One World Action.

Andrew Buncombe reports from Dhaka.

---

A woman and a child sit in the street in front of a building. The text on the page is too small to read clearly.